Do You Know Your Canada?

Do Canadians know how often they have lead the world? Are they aware, for instance that many inventions and improvements have been developed by Canadians? Lyman B. Jackson, writing in the Toronto Telegram, thinks that the romance and wonder in Canada's history are not generally appreciated. He says for instance, that the following are a few of the things that can be verified by existing records:

Canada built and sent the first steam boat across the Atlantic.

Canada built and demonstrated the first compound steam engine in the history of the world. The effect of this invention was the doom of the sailing ship as a factor in ocean commerce.

Canada built and demonstrated the first submarine telegraph in the history of the world.

Canada built and demonstrated the first railway sleeping car.

Canada originated the idea of making paper from wood pulp.

Canada demonstrated the first practical electric railway in the history of the world.

Canada built the world's first electric stove.

Canada pioneered in the field of electro-chemistry with the discovery of calcium by Tom Wilson, of Hamilton.

Canada originated the idea of Standard Time, which has since been adopted by every civilized country in the world.

Canada originated the idea of the panoramic camera.

Canada originated Marquis and other more recent wheats which have built up the commerce of the west, both in Canada and the United States.

Canada first isolated helium in commercial quantities.

The idea of the telephone originated in Canada and the first long distance trials of the instrument were made between Paris and Brantford.

Canada gave the world the idea of all-electric radio.

Insulin is of too recent date to require more than mention in this list. How are these facts to be broadcast? It is remarkable that they are not taught in all the schools.

Mr. Jackson says he feels the only way the problem can be solved is for a society, endorsed by the educational departments of the provinces of the country to conduct an exhaustive research into such angles of Canadian history and place its findings in the hands of every teacher.

HORSE SALE SUCCESSFUL

The Annual Horse Sale held yesterday and today is one of the most successful ever held here. Many buyers from out-of-town were in attendance and bidding was very keen.

The top price was $465.00 for a team, and there were many other high prices paid. The quality of the horses this year is very good, and thus in great demand.

Joe Fraser, Secretary of the Association had arrangements well in hand and everything went through without a hitch. C. D. Dameron, Auctioneer, got the highest possible prices for the horses.

MEADOWBROOK NEWS
Mr. and Mrs. Leah Riley were visitors at Mr. Harry Long's on Sunday.

Mr. Elmer Gilmour has finished woodslaving in this neighborhood. Mr. Johnnie Sauve had the misfortune to have his finger quite badly cut while sawing wood at Will Kinsley.

The Social Evening Club held their last meeting at Mr. Sauve's and all had a fine time, a spelling match being a part of the evening's entertainment—it was very interesting.

Mr. Leon Ingraham won first prize. The next meeting will be held at Mr. Will Kinsley's and we want to see a

LIBERALS TO CONTEST EVERY RIDING
Every riding in this province will be contested by Liberal candidates in the next election, whether it is held this summer or a year hence, declared W. R. Howson, prominent Edmontonian.

He was speaking at a public meeting for provincial leaders, in the course of a fighting address at a Liberal rally here last night.

Attacks on the U.F.A. government were launched by most of the twelve speakers of the evening. There was hot shot for Hon. J. F. Lyndhurst, who it was pointed out, was elected on the slogan, "Edmonton's cabinet minister," yet he had not shown any special attention to the city's interests.

The present government was criticized on account of its class serving legislation, while Premier Brownlee came in for condemnation as the head of a "one-man" government who refuses to trust the people or even the back benches of his own party, as one speaker declared.

CENTRE VALLEY W.I.
The Women's Institute held their regular meeting at Chapel School on Saturday, March 1st, with fifteen members and two visitors present.

The president, Mrs. Fred Ellsworth, presided.

The loose leaf typewritten Institute Cook Book was discussed and assurance was given by the president that it was coming along nicely.

Prices and details of a steel swing for the school were given by Mrs. Loren Craig.

This was finally laid over for the next meeting. It was decided to buy material for a comforter for the Women's Institute's Girl's Club and at the next meeting of the Institute to out the comforter also to the one the Girl's Club are giving to Sunshine and that the Institute send a parcel to Sunshine along with the Girl's Club parcel.

Mrs. Fred Ellsworth was unanimously chosen as the official delegate to the provincial convention at Calgary in May, with Mrs. Ronald Wetzel to accompany her. The lunch problem for the Constituency Conference, which is to be held at Bentley this year, was thoroughly gone over and final arrangements left in the hands of the Secretary and President.

A motion was made and carried, that gifts be given to the two departing members, Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Voss. After adjournment, refreshments were served in the basement by Mrs. R. Stoner and Mrs. R. T. Shufeldt, at a beautifully arranged table with seating capacity for everyone.

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT DEAD
WASHINGTON, D.C., March 10.—William Howard Taft, former president and former chief justice of the United States passed peacefully from life late Saturday afternoon. A stroke from hardening of the arteries preceded death by half an hour.

He was in his 73rd year. The resting of his body in state at the Capitol, and other honors befitting the exalted place he won for himself, will be accorded, and his body, at his own request, will rest in Arlington cemetery, the citadel of the nation's heroic dead.

President Hoover was foremost among the many who went sorrowfully Saturday night to the residence on Wyoming avenue where the only man in history to hold America's two highest offices slept in death. The president announced a 30-day period of official mourning.

At the point of death for many days, suffering hopelessly from a combination of ailments, Mr. Taft had surprised his physicians by the vitality of his last hours. But at 4:15 Saturday afternoon, a sudden stroke, while he was alone except for his nurse, heralded the end.

Turn to the Right—Friday

Metres to forward a country store keeper who loses money under mysterious circumstances and who has the missing here returned to him by three individuals and you have one of the many ludicrous situations presented in "Turn to the Right", to be presented at the Grand Theatre, Lacombe, Friday evening, March 14th, by The Westsaskin Players, under the auspices of Lacombe Lodge No. 1044, Loyal Order of Moose. This is heralded as the outstanding entertainment of the season in this town and is brought here under great expense. Members of the local lodge who travelled to Westsaskin to see the play stated that they would not have missed it had they been required to go twice the distance in the very unfavorable weather which prevailed. Simply wonderful, they told their brother Moose upon their return—and the outcome is that arrangements were made to bring the Players here.

The company has already scored tremendous hits in Westsaskin, Ponoka and Camrose and arrangements are already under way for their return to this town with another big production. Mr. B. W. Bellamy, director of the company, who also takes one of the leading roles, has had many years experience on the amateur stage, and he is also well known through Alberta and Canada for his prominent identification with the amateur athletic movement. There are nine male characters and five ladies in the cast, with two interior and two exterior scenes, for which the company carries its own equipment which originally cost hundreds of dollars. The story deals with the adventures of three young fellows just out of Sing Sing penitentiary who eventually discard their undesirable methods of livelihood, make good in the realm of respectability and successfully engage in matrimonial entanglements with a trio of rural "peaches".

"Turn to the Right" was a great hit in New York City, where it ran for several months and the road tour of the original New York company covered the principal cities of the continent. The royalty fee payable to the publishers for every performance is fifty dollars, which is itself an assurance that the production is one of the best every presented by either amateurs or professionals on the Calgary-Edmonton line.

Education in Peace

So far as we can see at present there is nothing objectionable in Miss McPhill's proposal to the House of Commons for the setting up of a chair of international relationships and for a general education in the virtues of peace. She need not even seriously anticipate provincial resentment at alleged interference in matters of education, at least to this extent since after her experiences with the unemployment problem this past winter the provinces would probably appreciate the Dominion Government taking some interest in them. There are, as a matter of fact, chairs of international relationships in several of the United States universities accomplishing, according to information at hand, very useful work in a most necessary branch of useful citizenship—the international aspects of political science. There are no data, however, which show that it is anywhere taught that peaceful international relationships demand the overthrow of the defense forces. This, evidently, is what Miss McPhill would have Canadian students taught. But there is a practical side to this business of disarmament, after all; a fact which has been very well recognized in all the treaties thus far made. Critics may scoff at resolutions and saving clauses and provisions but anyone with half an eye, provided he has a full-sized brain, has only to look in the direction of Russia and India and China to see that the world is by no means agreed that total disarmament is feasible; and until the whole world agrees it must not be done. It is all very well for Miss McPhill and such as she to say that Canada is in a position to set an example to the world by totally disarming. She is. But only because she has the armed might in her sister-Dominions behind her in also the dream of enveloping peace should fail to materialize. Does any child in a family of men and women or of nations want to feel helpless and impotent without the support of brothers and sisters?

In all other respects we are inclined to agree with Miss McPhill that inestimable benefits would accrue from an enlarged opportunity to study international affairs. We even venture, without disrespect, to suggest that Miss McPhill herself would be one of the chief beneficiaries from such a course of study.

Labor vs. Machines

There is no subject being more constantly discussed at present than the displacement of human labor by the machine. It is not a new one, but it has been thrust forward in such a way of late to demand particularly closer attention. The rate at which mechanization has proceeded is responsible in a large degree for the acute form that unemployment difficulties have taken. An address that was delivered the other night by Dr. Julius Klein, the assistant secretary of commerce at Washington, who has been at close grips with the problem mentioned in the seriousness. But at the same time he is confident that there will be a satisfactory adjustment to the conditions that have been created.

Dr. Klein is one of the "big business men" whom Mr. Hoover has induced to assume administrative duties. Not only has he had an extensive experience in commercial life but he is a keen student of economic developments in their broadest aspect. He cites many almost incredible instances of the efficiency that machines have attained in the United States. Where at the beginning of the world war one factory operative in the American razor blade industry was turning out 500 blades in a given period of time, his output is now 32,000. In 1925, 100 men produced as many automobiles as did 272 in 1914. In practically every field of industry labor is being eliminated at a very rapid rate. The suffering that all this causes is such, in his opinion, that the means must be found by governments, in co-operation with employers, to "bridge the gap" between the old and the new. He says that the displacement of human labor by the machine is not a new one, but it has been thrust forward in such a way of late to demand particularly closer attention. ## Here and There

(437) A revelation of the wide range and high quality of manufactured products centering in the twin cities of Port William and Port Arthur was commended by visitors to the "Home Industry Exhibition," held at the former city recently. The exhibit was open only to bona fide manufacturers of the two cities and a number of hundreds had displayed in which there was practically no duplication of products.

Forty years ago not a tree could be seen growing on expansive stretches of the virgin prairies in western Canada. To-day trees are plentiful and there is hardly an established farm house but has its shelter belt or a grove of poplars, maples or some other variety of trees. Recent reports of inspectors of Canadian Government Forestry Service show that there are 7,000 farms thus provided and when a total of 427 families have been distributed over the prairie, with many millions more bought from nurseries and planted on farms.

Alberta led the western provinces in the number of successful farm placements made in 1925 by the Canada Colonization Association when it was turning out 500 blades in a given period of time, his output is now 32,000. In 1925, 100 men produced as many automobiles as did 272 in 1914. In practically every field of industry labor is being eliminated at a very rapid rate.

The first of the Canadian Pacific Railway broadcasts took place February 11 over CKAC from Montreal and CKRM from Toronto and will be repeated every Friday thereafter. These stations were linked over a Pacific coast and the broadcasts will be heard in all parts of the continent. The broadcasts will be heard in all parts of the continent. Appointment of L. C. McQuat, one of the Dominion's leading agriculturalists, as general agricultural agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, announced recently, is further evidence of the railway's interest in the development of Canada. Mr. McQuat has had 15 years experience in agricultural and livestock affairs and enjoys the distinction of having represented Canada on an Imperial committee to study the meat supply of the British Empire.

Shrines making the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, their Mecca next June for their Imperial Council sessions, will find a city ready built and equipped for 5,000 people at their disposal. The Canadian Pacific Railway are now building "Fos City" composed of railway sleeping cars and marquees to take the place of administration and service buildings. The new city will closely adjoin the Exhibition grounds where the convention is to be held. It will be divided by The Midway and its full length will be adorned with a motor road to be known as "Rameses Drive." Streets numbered 1st, 2nd, 3rd, etc., will radiate from "Midway."

BRONFMAN NOT GUILTY

ESTEVAN, Sask.—Harry Bronfman, millionaire distiller of Montreal, is not guilty of attempting to induce a customs officer, Cyril Knowles, to make false statements.

A jury in Court of King's Bench, before Mr. Justice Bigelow, brought in a verdict of "not guilty" late Saturday night.

The charge on which Bronfman was tried was alleged to have been committed in 1920. It was charged that the wealthy distiller had attempted to counsel Knowles, and inspector of the customs department, to issue a false statement of monies received by him on three automobiles illegally entering the Dominion through the Gainsboro, Saskatchewan, port. Bronfman, at the time, operated several liquor export houses

War Against Tuberculosis

Working wherever the need is apparent, a small group of people are endeavoring to cope with the spread of tuberculosis through the province of Alberta. All these workers come under the Department of Public Health of the Alberta government, but they work in conjunction with local physicians.

Few realize that out from the Central Alberta Sanatorium near Calgary, where many tuberculous patients are cared for, there radiates a constant stream of service reaching right into the homes. When a patient leaves the sanatorium, he is still under observation and receives much help, and patients who have never been there are guided indirectly.

Three months after a patient returns home, the sanatorium sends out a questionnaire asking how he is and what he is doing. At the end of six months, another questionnaire is sent him, and every year thereafter. The reports that come in in reply are consolidated on a follow up card showing the names of patients, dates, and a short note on his general condition. A complete record of every case is kept.

Cards are grouped according to towns and railway lines. These serve as a guide to the travelling diagnostician, Dr. A. Armstrong. Periodically Dr. Armstrong makes a trip along certain railway lines, having previously communicated with the doctors in the various towns, announcing his intention, and giving them a list of patients in that locality whom he would like to see. He also notifies ex-patients that if they or members of their families would like to be examined, they should get in touch with the local doctors. The sanatorium doctors do not treat patients outside of the sanatorium, but always work through the local doctors. They do not, however, refuse to examine a patient who does not come through a doctor. The Sanatorium records regarding patients go to local doctors for their guidance.

All patients are advised to be examined from time to time. If it is found they are advised to have treatment. If they can have sanatorium treatment they are advised to do so. Those who cannot, are told that the Sanatorium will write the local doctors telling him their condition and advising them to see the doctor and discuss the situation.

Last year Dr. Armstrong travelled over 5000 miles, interviewed 110 patients, 91 of whom had referred patients, and examined 244 patients. His travels took him from Ponca River to the southern boundary.

Chest clinics conducted by the sanatorium doctors are held regularly in Edmonton and Calgary, and every two or three months a doctor goes to Drumheller, Medicine Hat, and Lethbridge and holds a clinic of one or more days, depending on how much work there is to do. Other points are visited when possible and necessary. Edmonton clinic is held at University outdoor clinic on the fines and third Fridays of each month, in Calgary in the city health department's offices every Wednesday afternoon. Here the doctors see ex-patients, new patients, contacts and suspects, examine them and give them advice. Wednesday afternoon is set aside for examination of ex-patients at the Sanatorium. It has been found that there is more tuberculosis in the central and northern part of Alberta than in the south. This is largely due to the large settlements of Ukrainians among whom the disease is rampant. At a recent clinic held in Edmonton, four of the eight patients who came for examination were Ukrainians. Twelve patients in all were examined that day, and of these 4 were positive cases, two contacts, and two strongly suspected cases.

In both Edmonton and Calgary, the provincial health department has made arrangements so that people who cannot afford to be x-rayed may have this examination at the clinic's expense.

Making Criminals Remember

The lash is today an ever greater instrument of punishment and more potent as a deterrent to crime than it was a generation ago. This is the conclusion of one who should know something about the subject. H. W. Cooper, former warden of New Minster and Rocky Mountain Penitentiaries, discusses the effectiveness of the whip in an article in the Vancouver Sunday Province. After pointing out the infliction of corporal punishment has many opponents, largely he thinks because it is administered only in the presence of prison officials, including a physician and that no man needs hospital treatment afterward.

After thus taking some of the sting out of the whip, the former warden states that professional criminals dread the "cat." Why? Here is his answer:

The usual manual work of today calls for dexterity rather than strength and, as a people, we depend more upon nerves rather than muscles. "Cat" whippers have similar qualities; they have become gunmen. Flabbily dressed, smooth in speech and manner, their bodies are soft. In the cowardly menace of the pistol lies the secret of their confidence and assurance. Take away their gun and you take away their nerve. The next time you read the headline, "Daring Bandit Slays Holdup," remember that the most notorious gunner in Canada ever produced, serving a life term now in Kingston penitentiary, was forced into the army, but could never be even dragged into the front line.

Mr. Cooper cites a striking case where he witnessed the lash administered to three prisoners. The first two were gunmen whose depredations had extended over many states and into British Columbia. These two men, he says, behaved similarly when the judge's sentence of a whipping was carried out. The room responded with alternate imprecations and appeals. One of them afterward stated he would rather do ten years imprisonment than take another ten lashes. "It is safe to assert," says Mr. Cooper, "that neither he nor his companion will ever again subject Canadians to threat of violence or death."

The third man to get the whip was beyond middle age. He was sturdy and thickset. In his youth he had served in a world-famous British regiment noted for its strict discipline. Placing a wadded handkerchief between his teeth, he stepped forward to take his punishment. He uttered no sound. When it was ended he forced his lips into a smile and said: "Thank God that's over." The way in which this man took his punishment earned him the respect of the prison officials, especially in contrast to the whining cowardice of the two bold, bad gunmen who had just preceded him.

The former warden is convinced the lash should be administered as soon as possible after the convict commences his prison term, while the memory of crime and sentence is still fresh. He absolutely opposes the lash at the end of the sentence, for, says he, "it is absolutely impossible to reform a man who is haunted by the knowledge that in two or five years he is to be lashed again."

He is sure Mr. Cooper of the efficacy of the lash as a deterrent to crime, that he suggests a fine way to stop a wave of hold-ups is to take the first bandit convicted to the police station and there give him twenty lashes. The crime wave will collapse at once, he declares. Incidentally it will be remembered that there was a marked diminution in the number of hold-ups reported in Edmonton after one of the convicted culprits were sentenced to several years in the penitentiary—with the lash.

FOOD EXPORTS DECLINE
 Canada's trade in live cattle with Great Britain disappeared last year. Not one animal was shipped from the Dominion to a British port in 1957. Canadian butter exports to Britain nearly disappeared. Britain bought only eight cwt. of butter, worth $340 from Canada last year, enough to fill two or three packing cases. Britain's total purchases of butter was 6,400,423 cwt. worth $390,000,000.

Canada's share of Britain's orders for other foodstuffs was also small. In 1957 this country provided only one-quarter of the wheat imported by Britain, one-third of the wheat meal and flour, one-tenth of the barley, one-fourth of the beans, one-quarter of the cheese, and 1 per cent of the ham.

These facts are extracted from a report by Harrison Watson, Canadian trade commissioner at London, Mr.

Watson points out that Canadian food exporters are losing ground in the British market. Last year in Great Britain their sales of bacon dropped 85 per cent, of flour 23.7 per cent, and of cheese 21.3 per cent from 1956 levels.

Some of the facts cited are simply explained. Canadian exports of butter have fallen away because the home market absorbs total home production and more besides. The decline in our sales of cheese, bacon, ham, flour and other commodities is not accounted for so satisfactorily.

Mr. Watson repeats the familiar statement that Canadian producers have not been able to guarantee the regularity of supply demanded by British importers. He notes also that in the British market Canada incurs competition by producers' organizations of Australia, New Zealand and Denmark, backed by their governments and employing the arts of publicity to get orders.

There is the additional fact that the Argentine, which sold more wheat, oats, butter and beef to Britain than Canada did in 1957, is an economic sense a British colony. Its enterprises are financed largely by British capital, and it imports British manufactured goods in large volume. Britain reciprocates with orders for foodstuffs, getting them more cheaply than from Canada.

Mr. Watson makes another point, the high efficiency of production in countries competing with Canada. It should be realized, he says, "that many of the Empire and foreign countries which compete with Canada for Britain's import trade have since the war overhauled their methods. The adoption of new and improved organization in connection with production, standardization, and distribution has resulted in most cases in a reduction of costs, which enables such countries to market their products with results satisfactory to themselves at a scale of prices which would have been formerly unprofitable to them. As a result, Canadian producers of agricultural and allied commodities have to face competition which grows constantly keener."

RECKLESS LOANING BY ALBERTA GOVERNMENT

Edmonton, March 8.—For the purpose of providing new regulations which will prevent a repetition of the happenings of the past six years when a $2,000 a year supervisor obligated the provincial government for loans totalling $1,812,986.80 under the Alberta Co-operative Credit Societies Act, without any direct supervision, a bill empowering the lieutenant-governor-in-council to make all amendments thought necessary, has been introduced in the legislature by Hon. R. G. Reid, provincial treasurer.

Uncollected loans totalling $1,082,000 were still outstanding on December 31, 1957, and an investigation started by George H. Webster, Calgary, has resulted in the whole matter being paraded before the public accounts committee of the legislature for full investigation.

In addition to the large sum of money loaned to credit societies under this act, a total of $414,409.08 was advanced during the year to various pool organizations under the $1,000,000 Pool Guarantee act passed at the 1955 session of the legislature.

Of this amount the Calgary Milk Producers' Association received bank guarantees totalling $121,450; Southern Alberta Dairy Pool of Calgary, $72,450; Central Alberta Dairy Producers, $68,571; Wetaskiwin Dairy Pool, $2,500 and the Northern Alberta Dairy Pool of Edmonton received $183,397.8.

A perusal of the public accounts also showed that $60,000 advanced to the egg and poultry marketing services, $45,000 for registered seed, $35,000 for butter marketing services, $15,500 for cattle purchasing, and $500 for fur marketing was still outstanding at the end of the year.

At the first hearing of the public accounts committee of the legislature, called last week for the purpose of hearing charges preferred by Liberal members, that a portion of the $45,000 advanced to the Donatville Co-operative Credit Society had been used for the purchase of farm lands, contrary to the provisions of the act, government officials admitted that this had been done.

They also admitted that under the present terms of the act, the supervisor who was in charge of administration of the act, up until December 31, 1957, and who has since resigned, was invested with power to allow him to authorize bank loans to credit societies without any direct concurrence on the part of the provincial treasurer and that the amount of loans made was not known to the government until the bank statement had been received every month.

The supervisor in question was employed at a salary of $2,000 a year. The new supervisor appointed on January 1, 1958, receives an annual salary of $4,500 a year.

The investigation in to the affairs of the Donatville society showed that it had been organized in 1926 with a membership of 25—all Hungarians. The society received an advance of $45,000. With this money they purchased farm lands in the district costing $75,000. Implements valued at $16,000 and cattle and horses valued at $14,000.

On the purchase price of the land they paid $11,000, part of the $45,000 advanced to them by the government, and the remainder was expended on livestock and implements. A later investigation showed that the land was only worth about half the price paid for it, and that the implements were worth approximately $6,728, although the Hungarians paid the vendor $14,000.

In the meantime, all but seven of the Hungarians have deserted the farms.

During the hearing, Mr. Webster asked that the files relating to the Minburn and Innisfree societies be placed at the convenience of the public accounts committee. The Innisfree society owes the government $148,000, and the Minburn society is still indebted to the government for a total of $121,239.30.

Highways are becoming increasingly a dominant issue in Canada. Every province has become seized of the importance of all-weather roads and the older sections are building paved highways, not for the benefit of tourism, but for the more satisfactory transportation of their own people and their products. Tourists are a secondary factor, but one that brings into Canada approximately $300,000,000 a year, which is an impressive and useful amount of new money.

The Dominion Government no longer helps the provinces in the construction of highways, but the federal administration may be reasonably considered to have a definite responsibility in giving assistance in the building of the Trans-Canada highway through certain areas, such as the gap between the head of the lakes and Manitoba and the gap between Golden and Revelstoke. A main highway across Canada should be completed and while the federal government may not feel that it is its duty to help with sections which are properly provincial in their nature, it should aid with the links through territory which is very sparsely settled and by means of which contact, that is more national than interprovincial in its character, will be established.

Here and There

Smashing all known records for the 120 miles of heavy going that characterized the International Dog Sled Derby run at Quebec recently, Emile St. Godard galloped in to his fourth victory in that event when he led Leonard Senne to the tape by a margin of five minutes flat in eleven hours, one minute and 27 seconds for the whole distance. St. Godard won $1,000 cash and a gold cup. There were twelve contestants in the race.

The western branch lines construction programme of the Canadian Pacific Railway for 1958, announced at headquarters of the company recently, will involve expenditure of $11,000,000, said D. C. Coleman, western vice-president, interviewed at Winnipeg. In addition to this sum, ten million dollars will be spent on improvements designed to increase the capacity and efficiency of lines operated in the west.

Purchase of the Algoma Eastern Railway by the Canadian Pacific Railway is announced by E. W. Beatty, chairman of the board, and president of the latter company. The property runs between Little Current and Sudbury and its purchase is subject to approval of the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific and to ratification of the purchase at the annual meeting to be held May 15 next.

For several years Canada has led the world in aerial surveying and last year consolidated that leadership by applying for the first time in any country, aerial methods to geodetic reconnaissance and transportation. Around 70,000 square miles were covered by aerial photography last year by the Royal Canadian Air Force and the Canadian Government Department of the Interior.

Canadian investments abroad at the end of 1957 totalled $1,579,074,000, according to a recent official estimate. Of this amount $874,626,000 is invested in the United States; $121,915,000 in Great Britain; and $572,533,000 in other countries.

Available horsepower in Canada is 20,197,000 horse power under conditions of ordinary minimum flow and $11,115,000 horse power under conditions of ordinary six months flow. Only about 6,000,000 horse power has been harnessed.

The first Canadian woman Senator, Hon. Cairine McKay Wilson, is the mother of eight children ranging in age from 20 to 4. Prior to the appointment there was doubt as to whether women could legally be appointed to the Senate and the question was carried to the Privy Council which held that women were persons and therefore entitled to sit.

About 13 1/2 million meals a year are served to travellers by the Canadian Pacific—this is to say, 37,000 meals every day or 259,000 every week. This gigantic total is made up of about 4,500,000 in dining cars and station restaurants; 4,600,000 on Atlantic or Pacific steamships; 1,350,000 on land coastland steamers, and 3,500,000 in the company's hotels and bungalow camps.

Ye Olde Tyme Concert

The choir of the United Church presented a Concert of very high order on Friday night in the Church. It would be difficult to pick out those who outshone the others, so well did everyone perform.

Each member of the fair sex was introduced by her stage name, such as "Spinster Holdenough Boddy" and "Dame Shortwork Long." The men, with their long coats, all hats, and canes also came in for applause. The programme was varied, and every part pleasing. The choir's opening piece "Echoes from the Old Homestead" was especially good, and their fireside sing song also. The musical comedies showed unexpected acting ability, and delighted the audience. "Goodman Obediah Taylor" proved himself an eloquent preacher, basing his remarks on the well-known text "Old Mother Hubbard went to the cupboard."

Altogether this was considered to be one of the best entertainments given in Lacombe by local talent. There was standing room only, and the receipts were enough to enable the choir to purchase their gowns. Already two requests have come to them to repeat their concert elsewhere. They wish to thank those who loaned the costumes and decorations, and the Ladies' Guild for the refreshments served at the Manse, and all others who assisted in making the venture such a success.
